Short Description of the school	It's a high school located in a difficult district, who has received most of the immigration and refugees in town... also- since we have an amazingly wide range of languages; cultures and traditions among our students- with a great potential to work on interculturalism and European identity, as well as a fully motivated teaching staff. We are a school situated in a "disadvantaged" district, where the students have very different origins, and assimilation difficulties are seen everyday. Nevertheless, the Alain Fournier teaching staff consider that these multiple identities are also a rich heritage which must be highlighted.
